Caring Touch is a unique boutique featuring a wide array of medical garments for women recovering from breast cancer surgeries or dealing with lymphedema.

Products include a wide variety of mastectomy forms, swimwear, bras, camisoles, wigs, lymphedema sleeves, gloves and gauntlets.

With close to 10 years' experience in healthcare retailing, Caring Touch owner Debi Drybala takes pride in her organization's ability to be a specialty product provider to women on their journey back to better health.

"Our goal is to provide superior products and services which promote wellness and conquer change," explains Drybala. "We've served over 25,000 customers and provide caring customized service to fulfill our customers' personal and medical needs."

If appropriate, certified fitting specialists will recommend a type of garment or form that is appropriate and suitable for specific types of conditions and physical configurations. In-network with most insurance carriers, benefits are checked prior to all fittings to determine what items are covered by insurance. Measurements are taken prior to each fitting in the privacy of a dressing room.

Carrying the most respected lines in the industry, Caring Touch offers garments which:

- Support and comfort
- Contain pockets that hold breast forms in place
- Hug the body and have toggle straps
- Protect sensitive skin, featuring breathable cotton
- Embody expander and implant shapes for a balanced appearance
- Promote peace of mind and self confidence

With a Board of Certification (BOC) accreditation, Caring Touch is dedicated to meeting the demands for quality patient care by providing comprehensive orthotic and prosthetic (O & P) services. As a certified Lympe Press dealer, Caring Touch can provide pneumatic compression pump systems for patients who suffer from lymphedema.

Need some stylish accessories, fashionable clothes or under garments to round out your wardrobe? This extraordinary shop, which sports an old world eclectic atmosphere, aims to please with reasonably-priced jewelry, scarfs, gloves, shoes and other garments, as well as cancer awareness items.

Products	Service Description
Mastectomy Forms	Various breast forms are tested for best fit, individual circumstances and lifestyle considerations.
Mastectomy Bras and Camisoles	A selection of bras will be presented. Camisoles with built-in bras are also available for purchase.
Wigs	Caring Touch carries many varieties of wigs, including the Raquel Welch signature collection of innovative products made with the finest quality materials. Clip-in hair extensions and hairpieces are also available. (Many Raquel Welch wigs feature state-of-the-art Memory Cap® technology, which offers the ultimate in light comfort and dependable fit.
Lymphedema Sleeves, Gloves and Gauntlets.	Compression garments are worn on various parts of the body to help with lymphatic drainage that can cause health-related issues other than swelling. Offered in a wide range of colors and patterns, sleeves, gloves, gauntlets and stockings are great for the treatment of mild lymphedema.
Swimwear and Swim Forms	The natural look of swim forms are available to use with your new suit. Translucent breast forms are designed for use in the harsher conditions of salt water, swimming pools and hot tubs. Their lighter weight makes them great for rigorous activity such as dancing and jogging.
Cancer Awareness	Various cancer awareness items are carried, including T-shirts, baseball caps, bracelets, pins, necklaces and ornaments.
